LATEST FIGURES SHOW BUT 10 MEMBERS OF THE OHIO DELEGATION FOR PRESIDENT

Claims He Will Control State Convention and
But This Is Denied by Roosevelt Forces Who
Out That Taft Delegates Are Dwindling Instead of Increasing as Earlier Announced All Classes for Roosevelt President

COLUMBUS, O., May 22. According to returns on hand tonight, from approximately 4,500 of the 5,192 precincts in the state, Colonel Roosevelt's delegates to the national Republican convention carried yesterday's primaries by a plurality of about 25,000. It does not now seem possible that final results will change the number of delegates for either side by more than one or two. The best figures available show that Roosevelt has 32 of the 42 district delegates and that President Taft has 10.

The delegate-at-large situation in the Republican party will not be known or settled until June 3, when the state Republican convention is convened here. The Taft leaders claim they will control the state convention and designate the delegates-at-large for the president, but the Roosevelt managers declared late returns show the number of Taft delegates to the state convention to be dwindling instead of increasing as was announced early today.

There is no question that the Taft-Roosevelt fight will be carried to the floor of the state convention when the final struggle in Ohio will be made for the half-dozen delegates-at-large.

Even in the matter of district delegates an official count will be necessary to determine exact results.

An analysis of the recapitulated Roosevelt vote shows that the Roosevelt strength was not confined to any particular section of the state, or to any particular class of citizens. He carried mining and industrial sections, such as the Hocking Valley, as well as some of the oldest and most conservative suburban communities. Added to these was much strength among the farmers.

Although later returns on the Democratic presidential preference primary vote gave Woodrow Wilson a fighting chance for one or two delegates, the New Jersey man's exact standing will not be known for several days, when related rural returns have been procured from judges who were unable to complete the count last night.

However, Governor Harmon practically is assured a complete delegation of 45 delegates to the Baltimore convention. His lead now gives him control of the state Democratic convention which will select six delegates-at-large.

It also is said the convention will provide for the unit rule, which will force the Wilson delegates selected by districts yesterday to vote for Harmon.

Peculiar Situation.

COLUMBUS, O., May 22.—The count of the latest returns, which indicate that Wilson has carried the first and second districts, has developed a peculiar situation in the Cincinnati end of the state. Wilson had candidates for delegates in the second district, and returns show that these were beaten. The Harmon delegates were unopposed in the first district.

New Jersey Next Battleground.

NEWARK, N. J., May 22.—The struggle for national convention delegates shifted today to New Jersey. Governor Wilson's home state has taken the center of the political storm occupied last by Ohio. The New Jersey

EVERY CANDIDATE ON CITIZENS TICKET WON IN DENVER ELECTION

DENVER, May 22.—With accurate count about only 15 precincts missing, tonight the results of every candidate on the Citizens party in the Denver municipal election, yesterday, is known.

The total vote was 65,506. From 203 precincts Henry J. Arnold, the Citizens' mayoralty candidate, received 3,394 a plurality of 21,966 over John B. Hunter, the Democratic nominee, who received 13,458. Dewey C. Bailey, Republican, won 11,737.

In 204 precincts Daniel M. Sullivan, Citizens' candidate for sheriff, received 849, while Hamilton W. Armstrong, Democrat and present sheriff, received 510.

The election was a complete sweep for the Citizens. The strongest Democratic aldermen were substantially defeated. Perhaps the most surprising ending individual contests was secured by the results in the race for sheriff. Armstrong, the present official, at this time chief of police, it was believed, would get a heavy vote. He ran ahead of his ticket by about 2,000, but Sullivan has a plurality over him of 15,534.

Will Not Afford State Election.
Jesse P. McDonald, Republican state chairman and George T. Bradley, Democratic state chairman, both say they do not think the election will have any effect on the fall state campaign for election as the municipal election was based on local issues.

The new administration will be installed June 1 at which time the new city and county officers will take office, in part as follows:
Mayor, Henry J. Arnold, sheriff, Daniel M. Sullivan, auditor James F. Markov, recorder, Lucy L. Harrington, treasurer Allison Stoker, clerk, Otto Baum, assessor, C. J. Pitcher, coroner, Dr. J. W. Purcell, juvenile court, Ben R. Lindsay, county judge, Wayne C. Williams and R. H. Wood, superintendent of schools, Honora Macpherson, public utilities commissioner, A. Anderson.

Only the amendment to authorize the establishment of a mountain park for Denver was passed.

No action was taken today in liberalizing the city charter, the bitter personal campaign waged.

THREATENING LETTER TO INVESTIGATOR OF I. W. W.

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—The United States grand jury investigation into the Industrial Workers of the World was adjourned yesterday until Friday morning, but Government Prosecutor Dudley W. Robinson, in charge of the government case, stated today that he and his associates were hard at work.

An incident of the day that served to put determination into the government officials to go to the bottom of the matter was the receipt of a note by Mr. Robinson, threatening his life if he did not cease his activity in the case.

"Stop your investigation into this case or you will turn up missing," the note said. It was not signed.

The note was received by Detective Charles De Lacour of San Diego, who is here.

SCHOOL CHILDREN FIND A STOLEN MAIL POUCH

ROSWELL, N. M., May 22.—The third mail pouch stolen from the Santa Fe baggage room at Clovis, Monday, was found today by school children, hanging in a ditch near a public road.

All registered letter seals had been broken and robbed, and much letter mail broken open. No arrests have been made.

ORGANIZING NEW SAN DIEGO BODY "DAYLIGHT COMMITTEE"

FOR I. W. W. WORK
Will Replace "Vigilantes"
Who Talk of Disbanding to End Night Measures

CHICAGO, May 22.—Twenty-seven members of the Illinois delegations to the Republican national convention met today and discussed the political situation.

Chauncey Dewey, head of the Illinois Roosevelt League, presented a resolution advocating additional instructions to the 56 delegates already pledged to vote for Colonel Roosevelt, which would make them more directly responsive to any personal wishes which might be expressed by Colonel Roosevelt. The resolutions were said to cover committee action and different contingencies which might arise. No action was taken.

Preparing Roll Call.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Secretary William Hayward of the Republican national committee today began preparing the temporary roll call of the unopposed delegates to the national Republican convention. He expects to have the list completed May 30. It is expected the list will contain the names of about 540 delegates.

It was stated that if disorganization was effected it would not be until Attorney General Webb had arrived. Then, if the committee determined to disband, the leading members would offer all the aid in their power to the state official in addition to asking him to protect them from the alleged crimes of the Industrial Workers.

Three Judges Hearing Case.
The importance with which San Diegoans generally regarded the Industrial Workers situation here was shown today in the hearing of the contempt charges which Atty. Fred H. Moore asserting he had been hindered in his efforts to defend persons now awaiting trial on criminal accusations growing out of the so-called "free speech" campaign, brought against J. M. Porter, alleged "vigilante" leader.

All three of the San Diego county superior court judges, Judges T. L. Lewis, W. R. Gray and W. A. Floune, with Judge Lewis presiding, heard the hearing of the Porter matter, which after a short session of court, was continued until tomorrow morning.

No trouble for which the Industrial Workers of the World was blamed was reported by the police today.

Attorney General Moves Today.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Attorney General Webb will leave for San Diego tomorrow to conduct in person the investigation ordered by Governor Johnson into all the conditions surrounding the propaganda carried on

Hall was a painter and Robert Seligson, who was finishing the ceiling above the Nevada avenue entrance to the building, called within five minutes they would have completed that part of the work. The ladder which supported the scaffolding slipped and Hall was precipitated to the floor. He fell 34 feet, landing on his head. He was rushed to the hospital, but died 40 minutes later without regaining consciousness.

Hall was a resident of 32 years in this city. He was a painter and had been working on the scaffolding for several days. He was a very old man, and his fall was a tragedy for his family.

AGED PIONEER OF CITY DIES

MRS. HENRY M'ALLISTER
PASSES AWAY, AGED 76
Was Wife of Major McAllister
and Mother Prominent Attorney; Here 39 Years

Mrs. Elizabeth M'Allister, aged 76, wife of Major Henry McAllister, died at her home, 125 North Cascade avenue, yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. McAllister had lived in Colorado Springs for 39 years and was one of the best known residents of the Pikes Peak region. Five weeks ago she was stricken with an attack of mountain fever, but was convalescing up to Tuesday morning when (complex of the heart set in. She passed from sleep into unconsciousness which continued until her death.

Mrs. McAllister, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth Cooper of a prominent Pennsylvania family, was married to Major McAllister in the eastern state in 1866. Just after the major had finished a brilliant service in the civil war in the Fielding-Pfeiffer-Pennsylvania cavalry, of which the W. J. Palmer then colonel was commander.

The McAllisters came to Colorado Springs in 1873, the major securing his connection with the American Iron and Steel corporation to become president of the National Land and Improvement company with headquarters here, formed to sell land along the right of way of the Rio Grande railroad. Major McAllister later was managing director of the Colorado Springs company, was president of the board of town trustees here in the early days, and held other offices. He is at present clerk of the board of county commissioners.

Her son Henry McAllister, Jr., is a prominent attorney of Denver, and for many years practiced here. He was chosen to make the commencement address at Colorado college this spring. Besides her husband and son, Mrs. McAllister is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary C. Taylor, wife of George Taylor, and Miss Mattie McAllister, both of this city.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the McAllister home, Dean E. S. Parsons of Colorado college officiating. Friends of the family are invited. Burial in Evergreen cemetery, will be private.

Helped Boer War Refugees.
He devoted his fortune to the care of refugees during the Boer war and at the close of hostilities his world-wide possessions amounted to $535. Since that time he has built up a fortune which brings him an income of $10,000 a month from mining and mercantile interests. He was one of the first to prove that the gold-bearing strata of the Rand could be found at a depth of 4,000 and 5,000 feet.

Mr. Wilson spoke freely last night of his impressions of America. "I am greatly pleased with the American people even to the extent of putting them before the English in every country and nationality. They

NO USE TO TRY REBELS DRIVE TO BEAT US OFF FEDERAL SAYS I. R. TROOPS

Declares Result in Ohio Primary Has Settled the Contest
Most Spectacular Battle Ever Fought in Mexico Ended by Darkness

THANKS PEOPLE OF STATE FIGHTING IS NEAR RELAND

Tells Them Action Is Victory For Every Good Citizen in United States
Probably Will Be Renewed at Daybreak—Heavy Loss on Both Sides

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., May 22.—The result in Ohio has settled the contest, said Colonel Roosevelt today. The colonel was greatly elated at the reports from Ohio. After going through several hundred telegrams which came in today from all parts of the country, he dictated this statement:

"Naturally I am very much pleased with the impulsive judgment of Ohio. 'Seriously I am only repeat what I have already said. I do not believe the rebels are under the impression that they can make a mistake and in Ohio we got their deliberation and as I have also said, if I had to make a choice I would choose the impulsive judgment of the people rather than the deliberate judgment of the bosses.'"

The result in Ohio has settled the contest, I believe we could have won without Ohio. Our opponents needed the substantial vote of Ohio to give them even a chance to make a contest at the Chicago convention.

Victory in Ohio means that it will be hopeless to try to beat us. It can be seen by unearthing our delegates who represent the popular will in Washington, Indiana, Kentucky and elsewhere where we will be able to show them to win by seating delegates from southern states which represent nothing whatever but fraud.

I am very profoundly appreciative of what the people of Ohio have done for the colonel.

"It represents a victory not only for the plain people of the Republican party but for every good citizen in the United States. For in this contest we have stood for the fundamental rights of good citizenship and every honest and decent citizen, no matter what his politics, is profoundly concerned in our victory, for we are fighting his battles."

Blind Ballot a Handicap.
Colonel Roosevelt said he had been told by Walter Brown, manager of his Ohio campaign, that the blind ballot in that state presented at least a 25 per cent handicap for the Roosevelt supporters.

After he heard the returns, Colonel Roosevelt left Sacramento Hill for a horseback ride. He said that he expected no visitors today.

Colonel Roosevelt will depart for New York early tomorrow to go to his editorial office for an hour before beginning his New Jersey campaign. He is to depart at 11 o'clock for Paterson where he will make his first speech.

His trip is being made for the purpose of giving the finishing to his engineering education, which he received at the Cape Town Technical College. He has been here for several days and declares that the United States and Canada are the most highly developed countries in the world.

This is Mr. Wilson's first trip to the United States though he has been in nearly every country of Europe. He has lived in Boksburg, 15 miles from Johannesburg, near the great gold fields of South Africa, for 49 years, going there with his parents from Ireland when he was 14 years old. He was educated in Germany and England and is a man of unusual culture. His life has been one of adventure, since he has seen the region of South Africa grow from a wild country to its present civilization. He lost and regained his fortune several times in the diamond and gold fields.

THE AMUSING MR. MCKINLEY

CONGRESSMAN MCKINLEY, manager of the Taft campaign, seems to be what Artemus Ward used to call "an amosin' little cuss." His frequent announcements, manifestoes, ultimatums and prognostications are the only really humorous feature of the campaign. When Mr. McKinley assumed his duties as custodian of the Taft boom he issued a grandiloquent proclamation in which he claimed the solid delegations of all the states in the Union for Taft. And nobody can charge him with inconsistency, for he has been doing pretty much the same thing ever since. He is the inventor of a new and—to everybody else unintelligible system of arithmetic which enables him to count an even bigger vote for Taft in the convention every time that gentleman loses an important state to Roosevelt. Also, it enables him to comfort himself exceedingly after each defeat.

Now, dear reader, listen to Mr. McKinley's comment on the Ohio primary, and enjoy one good laugh. He says:

"The outcome in Ohio, if it has any effect at all on the Taft candidacy in the Chicago Convention, has only served to solidify the Taft lines and make more certain a Taft outcome. The President will have a majority of delegates in the Chicago Convention from every section of the country, clearly indicating that he is the choice of a large majority of the rank and file of the country, and that no other Republican can hope to be elected this fall. The defeat of Theodore Roosevelt for the third time is assured."

What Taft Said:

"The vote in Ohio, my home state, much to my gratification, will be the decisive one and will settle the question of the nomination." — Statement given out by President Taft in Cleveland, O., last Thursday.

Five days before the primaries Mr. Taft declared that they would be "decisive" and would "settle the question of the nomination." Now, merely because they have gone against him, Mr. McKinley says that they have "in no degree altered" the situation. It would be well for Mr. Taft and his campaign manager to hold a get-together meeting and agree on their statements.

Mr. McKinley also seeks consolation in the extraordinary reflection that Roosevelt and Cummins also lost their own states. Cummins is in no sense a factor in the campaign, for no delegates at all are instructed for him except the ten that he got in Iowa. As for New York, Roosevelt cannot yet be said to have lost it, for the delegation will go to the Convention uninstructed, and its vote, as the situation is now shaping itself, is more likely to be cast for Roosevelt than for Taft.

Let us enjoy Mr. McKinley while he lasts. By a month from now he will be extinguished anyway.

AN UNFAVORED FAVORITE SON

THUS laments The Evening Telegraph:

It is a curious commentary on the state of the public mind, that Ohio, the Mother of Presidents, should repudiate one of her own sons who occupies the presidential chair. One would think that however much the people of that state may have been led to believe that they were being down-trodden and boss-ruled that they would at least have had the loyalty to give their indorsement to one of their own sons.

This comment, together with a further allusion to the vote in Ohio as an "affront" to Mr. Taft, suggests that the writer places the pride of a state in its "favorite son" higher than its duty to the nation as a whole. It is true that Mr. Taft is an Ohioan, and that Ohio has produced more presidents than any other state. But there never has been a sign that Taft's administration was any more popular in Ohio than in any other com...wealth. Neither has there ever been reason to believe that Taft

Roosevelt is. This is shown by a comparison of the popular votes received by the two men in Ohio when they were elected to the presidency. In 1904 Roosevelt carried the Buckeye State by a majority of 255,400, but in 1908 Taft won it by only 70,000. Again, Roosevelt carried his own state, New York, in 1904 by 176,000, notwithstanding his opponent, Judge Parker, was also a New Yorker and stronger there than in any other state.

Naturally, Ohio is glad to have one of its own sons in the White House, but it is not so proud of the fact that it will help keep him there when it believes him to be unfit for the place. And Tuesday's primaries show clearly that Ohio is led by a large majority of the Republican voters of that State. They disbelieve in him and in his policies, and so believing they did the only patriotic thing when they repudiated him.

AND EXHIBITED NO EMOTION.
From the Marshall Herald.
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gallatin attended the sale of Mr. Gallatin's father at Martinsville Saturday.

PERSONALLY WE HAVE NO OBJECTION.
Letter in the Chicago Tribune.
Sir—I am a porter on a steamer running out of Chicago, and am often referred to as that black son of a sea cook, and there is no getting around the fact that I am black, as genuine "nigger" as you ever saw, but I have gone to school some and have picked up what you might call a pretty fair traveling education, have accumulated considerable property, and am known to be thoroughly respectable. Therefore, I was delighted to read that Mr. Clarence Darrow has advocated the intermarriage of white and colored people. I admire Mr. Darrow very much, and being a single man, I should like to marry into his family.

STEWART ENTERS THE FIGHT.

From the Pueblo Leader.
The Progressive Republicans of Colorado have thrown down the gauntlet. The fight to redeem the party from corruption misrule will be carried direct to the Republican voters in the primary this fall. And the Progressives will make their fight being fought by Stewart of Colorado Springs as their candidate for governor.

Mr. Stewart in this morning's papers published the announcement of his candidacy. There is in it nothing of compromise, nothing of evasion, nothing of hesitation. It is a clean-cut, straight-forward document in which he lays down the principles upon which the fight will be made this fall.

First and foremost Mr. Stewart lays emphasis, as he should, upon the necessity of driving out of the Republican party of Colorado, and out of the politics of the state, the influence of those corporations and those men who have perverted the party to their own selfish ends, and who have exploited and robbed the vast natural resources of Colorado. This is more important, even, than the adoption of any platform of reform. For all reform will be made nugatory in the future, as it has been in the past, as long as these men and these influences are permitted to retain their present control.

As far as the Progressive Republicans are concerned, the fight has begun. Their platform has been laid down; their leader is in the field. It remains but to organize the forces; to push forward to victory.

For there is no question but that the great majority of Republicans in Colorado are Progressive. They are weary of the old bosses; they want new leaders, standing for Progressive measures. All the Progressives need do in the fall primaries is to make, throughout the state, and with regard to every office, the same fight that Mr. Stewart has outlined, and to concentrate their force behind men as free from entangling alliances, and as thoroughly Progressive, as Mr. Stewart. To compromise any of the principles he has announced, or to attempt on a Progressive platform to elect reactionary leaders, will invite certain defeat.

In the Republican ranks Mr. Stewart's announcement is assurance that the fight against the bosses, and for Progressive legislation, will be vigorously pressed. If the Democratic Progressives hope to win, they, too, must organize at once. For the old bosses cannot be beaten easily. And they cannot be beaten at all if any attempt is made to compromise, either on platform or on candidates.

SIGNS OF A BETTER DAY.

From the Philadelphia North American.
We see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.—James 1, 24.

For many years and in many quarters there has been more or less pointed criticism of the churches for their lack of interest in social effort. Immersed in contemplation of things spiritual, and by such contemplation blinded to the nearer material needs of men and women, orthodox religion has laid itself open to blame for ignoring present human needs. Faith has been held in higher regard than works by many professing Christians, who based their attitude on the words of our Lord: "The hand that is held out to you" in the words of a well-known revival hymn—is becoming more and more a helping hand in the fullest sense of that term. It is becoming more and more an active force for the relief of oppression and the betterment of physical conditions.

This encouraging awakening is amply evidenced by data given in a report on "The Church and Social Work," just issued by the Philadelphia workers in the Men and Religion Forward Movement.

For the benefit of those who feel that organized religion is wholly out of tune with these times, and for those who need encouragement in the furthering of like work, here are a few facts from this interesting document.

The first concern St. Bartholomew's parish, Protestant Episcopal, in New York city. The budget for that parish for last year was $280,000, and the money was spent largely for the maintenance of social service activities.

"There is no possibility of personal goodness except in social effort," says the St. Bartholomew Year Book for 1911. "The church is the place for the recognition of the centrifugal and centrifugal forces of our life."

The work done includes every form of religious instruction and missionary endeavor, as well as instruction in scores of trades and professions and properly supervised play and recreation. Sports and gymnastics are given much attention—indeed, no phase of the many-sided life of a great city is neglected in this congregation, which is commonly regarded as "ultra-fascinating."

Similar work is being done by the Westminster

Methodist church in Buffalo, where the annual expenditure is about $60,000. In that church frequent religiously "timely subjects" are "Lodge Smokes Nuisance," "Tuberculosis Inspection," "Lodging Houses," "Crime and Hiredity" and "The Value of Small Parks."

In the Temple Methodist church in Pittsburgh, the congregation is interesting itself in the care of discharged prisoners, vacant lot cultivation, a summer school of agriculture, the conservation of human life and the maintenance of a local aid bureau among other things.

These three examples are cited to give some notion of the nonsectarian nature of the new order of religious work. As a matter of fact, there is hardly a church of any size in the land which is not today taking some interest in the "worldly" affairs of the community in which its activities should hasten just such betterment.

There is still plenty of room for more work of this sort, however. The church is only beginning to recognize its opportunity. Let men and women alike join in the work of practicalizing the religion of Jesus of Nazareth.

Talking Politics

By WALT MASON.

Let us sit a while discussing politics, O friend of mine! Since the whole world seems a-fussing, it is time we fell in line! Let us give the trusts a trouncing, since they're croned on every hand; let us thrash around denouncing things we do not understand. Let our fervent, fireless scoffing in the public ear be dinned; they are best at eloquencing who are best supplied with wind, and the less we know of topics all the louder should we talk, till from Greenland to the tropics we shall give the world a shock. Let's neglect our work and linger in the clanging marketplace, pointing away a scornful finger at the statesman in the race; saying bitter things of strangers who have never done us harm, pointing out the nation's dangers, viewing ever with alarm. Let us talk and keep on talking till we chance to disagree, when I'll try to knock your block in, and you'll clamber over me; let us keep our lungs in focus like a pair of dippy dubs, till the pealers come and soak us with their liguam vitae clubs.

Big Interest From Small Investments

By RUTH CAMERON.

A woman came home from a shopping expedition to a house full of work, dog tired.

"It seems as if I simply must lie down and rest two or three hours," she said, wearily.

"Why don't you?" asked her neighbor.

"How can I?" said the woman. "Look at all I've got to do before dinner. I never ought to have gone off and left my work, but I felt as if I must take advantage of that side."

"Well, lie down and rest 10 minutes," said the neighbor.

"I can't spare 10 minutes," said the woman doggedly, and she donned her apron and went wearily to work.

Whereby, she proved that, like most women, she was ignorant of the tremendous interest which a small investment in relaxation at just the right moment will pay.

The value of little rests and relaxations is something the average woman does not seem to understand. If she cannot rest an hour or two, she will not rest at all. She looks out and sees that it is a beautiful morning and feels that she would like to go off for an outing, but it never occurs to her that half an hour's walk would freshen her up and make life much more livable.

Many women make the mistake of being tired out, before you face the next, throw yourself on the couch and absolutely relax for 10 or 15 minutes. You will not lose those minutes; on the contrary, you will get them back with interest in your greater facility.

If you have brain work to do and your brain is confused or excited, lay your task aside, and pick up some "easy" book and read for 15 minutes or a half hour.

If you come home from some expedition tired out and have work awaiting you, spend five minutes bathing your face in hot water and 10 minutes just relaxing, then drink a little warm milk, or eat some other simple lunch, and see how different the world looks.

Five minutes' complete rest before eating when you are very tired will double the nutritive value of your meal.

You have probably heard of the new science of scientific management which aims to so improve working conditions that a much larger output per man will be possible. An experiment was made with a man who was loading pig iron. He was offered large wages to do a certain task. But he was not left to himself to do it. If he had been, the investigator points out, he would have kept so steadily at his work that his muscles would not have had the proper periods of rest absolutely needed for recuperation, and he would have been completely exhausted early in the day. To prevent this, a man who understood the law of rest stood over him and told him when to work and when to rest. As a result of this schedule the man loaded 47½ tons a day as against 18½ under the old system—a gain of approximately 400 per cent.

This is one example of the value of little rests at the right moment. Verbum sat sapienti.

FIRST AID TO INJURED HEARTS

By Laura Jean Libbey

THE CALL OF THE SEA

(Copyright, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey)

The dream of every bride-to-be is to spend her honeymoon on the ocean. There hubby cannot invent a single excuse to leave her for even an hour. The bride and groom on land are near and dear to each other. But this feeling seems intensified a dozenfold on the deep with just a plank between them and eternity.

The bride has had to do much coaxing to gain the consent of her folk to the sea voyage. Her father quoted the words of an old ditty, who said: "If you take a journey by rail an' anythin' like an accident happens, then you're in! But of an accident happens on the sea, where's you?" Despite his uneasiness he is at last won over, but the home folk never lose that secret anxiety till they read that the ship upon which their loved one sailed has reached its foreign port in safety. And O, what tender romances have begun on these delightful voyages with the mystic, witching moonlight helping along the cause.

For the restless, unattached man who must take the voyage a little flirtation seems a godsend. He picks up a pretty woman's book which the rude winds have torn from her lap and flung at his feet. Or perhaps he has been fortunate enough to save her from a fall. Men sail ruder winds have sought to play havoc with her as she attempted to cross the deck. The thoughtless friendship thus begun has sprung up inrushlike. Both feel that life would never be the same if they were to part at the end of the voyage—go their ways without the hope of seeing each other again.

It has often been said that marriages resulting from betrothals at sea are invariably unlucky ones. The girl who never expects to see the other side of the world—gay, brilliant Europe—suddenly becomes imbued with the longing to take the trip when after a marriage proposal the subject of the wedding trip is broached.

A young girl writes me as follows: "Dear Miss Libbey: Which do you think is best for young people, to take a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Washington or to go to Europe and back? My parents don't seem to relish the idea of a sea voyage. Please write up something about its joys. Kindly don't put in anything about its dangers, for they read all that you write. Would such a trip prove too slow?"

To lovers of the sea a honeymoon trip on the ocean is most always delightful. One need not be a slave to fashion; that is, not dressing three times a day. The air is health giving and gives buoyancy to one's spirits as well. Evenings on deck are romantic and a joy long to be remembered. When the weather will not permit being on deck there is no end of dancing, theatrical entertainments and music in the cabins. The passengers seem like one big family intent upon having a jolly holiday.

ANSWERS

STILL ANOTHER "GOOD LOOKER."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 25, tall, dark and considered good looking. My one drawback is that I am bashful. Nearly every morning I see a young lady in the car whom I admire on account of her refined face and manner. I do not even know her name, and she seems so shy and demure. How can I become acquainted with this pretty young lady? She simply will not flirt, but blushes furiously whenever I have been fortunate enough to attract her attention. Is this a sign she is interested in me?"

"LIONEL."

Lionel, if you want the girl to have the opinion you are of the better sort, don't try to flirt with her. I am sure you can find some way of meeting her without resorting to such a low practice as flirting.

SHE'S NOT HANDSOME.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am not handsome, but attractive. I went with a young man whom I liked much, but I have stopped going with him. There is another young man who has been wanting to go with me, but I turned him down several times. The day I quit the first young man the other one came to me and asked me for my company. I accepted, as I like him much. Was it too soon to do it?"

"QUEEN OF HEARTS."

No, if you like him there is no reason why you should not accept his company whenever you care to do so.

FORGOT HER APPOINTMENT.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I love a dear little girl and thought she loved me to a few days ago. We generally go out to lunch together. One noon after lunch she had some shopping to attend to, so we parted and were going to meet within a short time and walk back to the office together. I waited for a time, but she did not come to the appointed place. I spoke to her about it upon my return to the office and she said she forgot about it. Do you think she could forget if she really loves me? Do you think it advisable for me to drop her? As I am considered handsome by all my friends, I am sure that I can soon get another girl."

"WEARY WILLIE."

I don't think the girl is greatly interested in you or she would not forget the appointment, do you? Better leave her alone for a while.

THE HASKIN LETTER

CARIBBEAN POLITICS.

XXIII GUATEMALA'S DICTATOR-PRESIDENT

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

GUATEMALA CITY, May 7.—Ruling Guatemala with the iron hand of a military dictator, and possessing a military machine of rare efficiency Estrada Cabrera yet boasts that he is a lawyer and not a military man. He has emphasis at all times upon the fact that he is a man of peace and not a man of war. Yet it is probable that no ruler in all Central American history ever was more harsh or exacting than Estrada Cabrera. In fact, his way is so absolute that no voice here dares cry out against it, for a very good reason that death or imprisonment without a chance to communicate with the outside world would be the portion of him who had the temerity to criticize his administration.

In all this country of 2,000,000 people, with an area equal to that of the state of Pennsylvania, it would be hard to find one book or one newspaper with a single word of hostile criticism of Estrada Cabrera and his rule. No one who values his business would take the risk of handling any volume containing a criticism of the president. In fact, no one who lives here ever dares to speak a single hostile word about Cabrera, except it be behind closed doors and in the utmost confidence—for men are shot in Guatemala for much smaller offenses than this and there are spies everywhere. Let a stranger begin to talk about conditions and immediately he is admonished of the possible proximity of spies, for even to be found listening to a conversation unfriendly to Estrada Cabrera is dangerous.

Much Better Off Than Some. These few simple facts show what kind of rule there is in Guatemala, and yet, harsh and oppressive as has been the sway of this dictator, it is still a debatable question whether it is not a lesser evil than the unbroken chain of revolutions which have beset many of the other republics of Central America. At least the crops are planted and harvested, and the energies of the bulk of the people may be devoted to the pursuit of peace rather than that of war. However bad may be the economic condition of the Guatemaltecos, they are still better off, perhaps, than the people of Honduras and Nicaragua. There are those who declare that, after all, Cabrera is just about as beneficent a ruler as the people will let him be. If he were less determined summarily to put to death the instigators of revolutionary movements, it seems inevitable that there would be an outbreak which he could not control in a very short time. If he were to permit free speech or a free press, a sort of conditions half as bad as those which obtain inevitably would lead to revolution.

This crafty ruler has a knack of forestalling all signs of revolution. He mistrusts almost everybody he comes in contact with. But sometimes he will have the word passed around that a little freedom of the press will be tolerated. This results in those who have grudges against the government expressing them, and thus he learns where to look for trouble and takes precautions to forestall it.

Cabrera Wears Bullet-proof Jacket. Cabrera never appears in public, except on the most extraordinary occasions. Some assert that he wears a steel jacket, and drives in a bullet-proof carriage when he goes out. Sometimes a whole year passes without his leaving the portals of his palace. He has several Gatling guns mounted on automobiles, and is always ready for the outbreak which he constantly dreads. When Secretary Knox visited Guatemala no one thought for a minute that President Cabrera would appear in public. But much to the surprise of everybody he attended the school celebration at the Temple of Minerva and seemed to have no fear whatever of the danger of the bullet-shooters who many people thought might be in hiding ready to put an end to his existence.

Cabrera has built nearly all of the great show places in Guatemala City, but it is seldom indeed that he gets to look at any of them. Once in a while the government grants a subsidy of $40,000 to a Spanish opera company to visit Guatemala City, but the entertainment is for the benefit of others than the dictator.

Two Attempts to Kill Him. There have been two public attempts to assassinate Cabrera. One was in 1907 when a mine exploded and killed his horses and his coachman. He himself escaped. He was driving along the street, and when the carriage got to a certain spot, it stopped momentarily, and the explosion took place. Hundreds of people were immediately thrown into prison, many were summarily shot, and others were flung into inaccessibility to force them to reveal the identity of the plotters. A party of conspirators had leased a house and had dug a tunnel under the street, placing a mine in it. The coachman had accepted a bribe to drive the carriage over this spot and stop. It was his intention to have the rear part of the carriage blown up. Instead, he stopped just short of the mark; and it was the front part of the vehicle that was over the mine, when the explosion took place. He was killed instantly. No one suspected him of being a party to the plot, until his wife, who submitted a claim for a pension, innocently gave in the papers which proved his connection with it.

Grave Charge Against Him. It is charged by many that Cabrera himself owes his position to an assassination to which he was a party. Riena Barrios, nephew of the liberator, was president in 1899, when he was shot in the street by Oscar Zollinger, a German. Cabrera had just returned from Costa Rica when this happened. He appeared at once before the cabinet and had himself recognized as first designate, carrying with it a succession to the presidency. The friends of Barrios have always declared that Zollinger was in Costa Rica for eight days at the same time that Cabrera was, and that his assassin was paid by Cabrera. Although the constitution of Guatemala expressly prohibits the reelection of a president, Cabrera has been reelected repeatedly, and his present term of office will not expire until 1917.

It is asserted that the custom of negotiating forced loans and compulsory government service is well reported by under Cabrera. In one instance several sailors protested against being compelled to make clothes for the army free of charge. They were immediately flogged and sent to prison. Men of wealth are required to make loans to the government and they know better than to refuse. When Guatemala desires to play the host to visitors, the hotels are asked to furnish free accommodations, and they never dare refuse.

Poor Currency System. The currency in Guatemala is now 17 to 1; that is, you get $17 of Guatemalan money for one American dollar.

FIVE MINUTES

ARE REQUIRED TO PROVE ITS MERIT

Remarkable Demonstration Reveals Wonderful Qualities.

STATEMENT OF MRS. T. T. JAMES

Recommends Use of New Tonic to Anyone in Her Condition.

"It only takes us five minutes to prove to most people that they are suffering from nervous debility," said one of the specialists who are meeting the public daily at the Robinson Drug Company, and who are here in the city for the purpose of introducing the new Tonic Vita. "It is astonishing to learn the number of people in Colorado Springs that are feeling drabby and tired and do not get any enjoyment out of life. They have exhausted their very poor digestion, little inclination and feel almost worn out most of the time. They think from the condition of their overworked nerves that they are suffering with some dread disease when as a matter of fact they are afflicted with the modern malady, nervous debility. The ailment is simply the result of the strenuous hurry and worry life they are compelled to live in the city. We have proven to many in even five minutes that this is their trouble, a debilitated condition of the body, and that Tonic Vita is the great remedy for it."

"Tonic Vita," said the specialist, "was discovered in Europe and has just in the last year been placed on the market in the United States. It is a preparation that has been very effective in overcoming the modern malady, nervous debility. Up until the time of its discovery the medical fraternity has come to realize the large proportion of this ailment but were unable to successfully combat it so far as the general public is concerned. Its discovery has been a boon to many in the old country and also in this country, in the cities where it has been introduced. I am in charge of the work here and am expecting phenomenal results."

Mrs. T. T. James, of No. 321 North Nevada Avenue, made the following statement in reference to the new tonic: "After using about one-third of a bottle of Tonic Vita I feel a remarkable change in my condition. I suffered from stomach trouble, was also very nervous and generally run-down. I think it one of the greatest remedies I ever used and can certainly recommend same to anyone in my condition."

The specialists will give free samples of "Tonic Vita" to interested callers at the Robinson Drug Company, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., all the rest of this week. The tonic is sold with the understanding that it must prove satisfactory to the purchaser or the price is refunded.

COLLEGE MAY FESTIVAL IN JUNGLE AT 4 P. M.

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the Colorado college May festival will be held in the jungle. Only that part of the festival which was postponed on May 11 will take place this afternoon. The cafeteria supper will not be served, as was previously stated.

It will be a festival of dances and contests. Discussions concerning who is to be queen of the May are becoming heated, and the players of both societies are confident of victory. The hockey game, which will settle the matter, promises to be well worth the price of admission.

The folk dances and light-colored wreath and Maypole dances, accompanied by the music of a 32-piece stringed orchestra, and staged in a beautiful setting so beautiful as the jungle, cannot well be described.

Miss Davis, physical instructor at the college, has charged the band, and the orchestra has been trained by Mrs. Polley. For those who know the ability of these bodies, no further recommendation is necessary.

The public is invited.

Appear; Conference Now Not Probable

As a result of the failure of the committee, representing those protesting against the closing of Cheyenne Avenue, to meet with the school board as arranged, there may be no conference regarding the situation. The board was to have met with the protesting committee at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but the committee did not appear. One man who is opposed to the closing came before the board and said it was impossible to get the committee together. It was his opinion, it is said, that the conference could have resulted in no results, as the committee was not prepared to make any concessions for the school board.

As the protestants failed to show up, it was determined to take advantage of the gathering of the board, and a meeting was held at which the question was gone over.

All the officers were re-elected, as follows: Van D. House, secretary; Miss Ann B. Perryman, stenographer, and assistant to the superintendent, George S. Brown, inspector of buildings; Harry Alward, treasurer; C. C. Skinner, auditor.

The question of the disposal of the buildings on the block across Cheyenne Avenue from the present High school was thrashed out, and it was decided to visit the buildings Saturday and get more first hand information on the matter.

GRADE OF CRIPPLE CREEK ORE HIGHER, SAYS M'GARRY

As a result of the completion of the Roosevelt deep drainage tunnel, the average grade of Cripple Creek ore has been raised about $2 a ton. This is the estimate of H. McGarry, vice president and general manager of the Golden Cycle Mining company, who explains the improvement in the grade as being the result of the opening up of formerly submerged bodies of ore. Many properties which have not been on the list of shipments for years, now are sending out high-grade ore. McGarry says that the outlook in the district is bright. The prospects are for the best mining in 1912, both as to tonnage and grade.

The Golden Cycle will treat 22,800 tons last month at an average of $20 a ton.

New Combination Auto Fire Truck Among Best in Country

COLORADO SPRINGS' NEW COMBINATION AUTO TRUCK.

"Probably the best piece of fire-fighting apparatus of its kind in the country," is what Fire Chief McCarty proudly says of the handsome, big auto fire truck just added to the fire department equipment of Colorado Springs.

The car is a 60-horsepower Knox, and is capable of a speed of 50 miles an hour. On a trial spin the other day the speedometer registered 48 miles, and no attempt had been made to make any records in the speed line.

The official name of the new truck is "combination chemical and hose" truck. It is a large affair, weighing with the apparatus it carries, 5,600 pounds. It has a carrying capacity of two tons. The wheel base is 145 inches long. There are dual tires on the rear wheels, the tires being 5 1/2 inches. Three big Rushmore searchlights are part of the lighting outfit of the car. One of these is near the driver's seat, and is mounted so that the light may be thrown in any direction. This is expected to be of great assistance to the fire fighters.

The car carries 1,000 feet of hose, a 50-gallon chemical tank with hose and

The Haskin Letter

CARIBBEAN POLITICS
XXIII GUATEMALA'S DICTATOR-PRESIDENT

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Yet President Cabrera thinks this is a happy situation. The poor peasant must work for his peso and a half a day no matter whether it is worth eight cents or whether it is worth $1.50. The president declares that this is an ideal currency, since the planter is able to pay for the growing of his crops in paper, and to sell them for gold. When Zelaya was president of Nicaragua, he and Cabrera each had an ambition to make himself ruler of all Central America. The game of international politics they played kept this region in a constant uproar and warfare. Zelaya has been banished but Cabrera still holds on, and while he has no Zelaya to checkmate, he still has the ambition to see himself ruler of all the country from the Isthmus of Tehuantepec to the Isthmus of Panama.

Has Done Country Some Good.

Whatever may be said against the dictatorship of Cabrera, on the other hand, he has done some things which represent long strides in the direction of the betterment of the conditions of the masses of the people. When Secretary Knox was in Guatemala, a festival of school children was given in his honor. Many hundreds of children marched out to the Temple of Minerva, and there took part in some very beautiful exercises. An interesting feature was the sinking of the "Star Spangled Banner," in English by perhaps more than a thousand little girls. One might have discounted all this as being the capital show given for the purpose of hiding conditions throughout the country, if he had not made more definite inquiry. But from authorities which may be relied upon as not giving to Cabrera any credit that was not his due, it was learned that there is a compulsory system of education in Guatemala applying to children between seven and 14 years old. The ideal of mayor of each village is expected to take a school census at the beginning of each school year and to see to it that each child of school age is kept in school. While this law may not be rigidly enforced in many communities, there are others where it is lived up to to the letter. Parents may be imprisoned if they refuse to send their children to school, and this very frequently happens.

Another long step in the direction of better conditions for the masses is the new law which was passed by Cabrera some five years ago. As will be explained later, Indian slavery does not pass any longer from father to son,

The son cannot inherit the debts of them one of the great feature films account before he is 21 years of age. Consequently, if a Guatemalan becomes a peon, he does it voluntarily. These two departures are greatly to the credit of the confessedly harsh ruler of Guatemala.

What the Press Agents Say

"GOING SOME" THIS WEEK AT THE OPERA HOUSE. SPECIAL MATINEE FRIDAY

Just a moment! You're deluded with the idea that the constitution of the United States made all men equal.

But it didn't, it was Mr. Cull. The above is one of the many funny lines which go to make up one of the best comedies ever written, "Going Some," by Rex Beach, being produced by James Hawley and Garrick Players, at the Opera house this week. It is doubtless if Colorado Springs has ever had in the past a better stock company, who can handle comedies with the same merit that this company is now doing. As a scenic production, the first act setting is the most picturesque western scene the writer has had the pleasure of seeing on any stage.

"The Man on the Box," Max Fickman's great success, will be offered for the first time in stock, commencing Tuesday, May 28, as Helen Ware, in "The Price," will be seen here May 27, being the last road attraction of the season. "Going Some" will run through Friday evening, with a special matinee Friday, May 24, as Margaret Illington will be seen in the theater on Saturday next, May 25.

"BLAZING THE TRAIL" AT THE MAJESTIC

In presenting "Blazing the Trail" to our patrons we feel that we are giving feet of excitement and thrills, depicting scenes and hardships undergone by our early settlers when Indians and wild beasts disputed every inch of ground with them.

An enormous cast is shown in this production, including Indians, plainsmen and emigrants. The leading parts are acted by talented actors, resulting in a western production unrivalled for dramatic worth, gripping and absorbing. It is staged in picturesque spots with backgrounds of natural beauty. The panoramic scenes and exultant masterpieces, as well as a revelation in sensationalism, spectacularism and dramatic perfection.

There is no extra charge for this feature. 5 cents is all that it costs, and take our word for it, you will see without question one of the best photoplays ever filmed.

MARGARET ILLINGTON, IN "KINDLING"

The Ten Commandments are absolute and fundamental, and to break any of them is to commit evil, but it seems, somehow, things are not always quite right. As in "Kindling," one of the characters in Charles Kenyon's play, "You can't always be right and be good." Whether this is right or not, is a matter of discussion in which the theme of Mr. Kenyon's play aptly presents. The story concerns the struggle of Maggie Schultz, wife of an east side stevedore, to live right and Schultz is a man possessed with hard, common sense, and with his wife he fears that it is wrong to bring a child into the world without half a chance in the stifling conditions of the New York tenements. Miss Illington is said to have won new laurels in the very exacting role of Maggie Schultz, and she and her brilliant company of players will be seen in "Kindling," at the Opera house, Saturday, May 25.

CORNELL DOPED TO WIN TRIANGULAR BOAT RACE

PRINCETON, CORNELL AND HARVARD WILL ROW TODAY AS FOLLOWS

PRINCETON—Bow, Curtis; 2, Byne; 3, Lawrence; 4, North; 5, Briggs; 6, Cross; 7, Rauch; stroke, Higgins; coxswain, Conington.

CORNELL—Bow, Elliott; 2, Bates; 3, Lum; 4, Kruse; 5, Waskely; 6, Spransky; 7, Ferguson; stroke, Distler; coxswain, Martz.

HARVARD—Bow, Balch; 2, Eager; 3, Reynolds; 4, Goodale; 5, Metcalf; 6, Strong; 7, Stratton; stroke, Newton; coxswain, Ables.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 22.—Tonight on the eve of the Harvard-Cornell-Princeton regatta on the Charles tomorrow, Cambridge resembled a bedlam. Numbering up into the thousands the supporters of the three crews marched about the streets uttering their yells and songs, while the oarsmen upon whom the burdens will fall tomorrow attempted to snatch much-needed sleep.

While confidence seems to reign supreme in all the camps, those who are familiar with the past performances of the crews pick Cornell to win hands down, with Harvard providing the stiffest competition and Princeton bringing in the rear. The prevailing betting odds are even money on Cornell against the field.

The two-mile distance is just to the liking of Cornell's crew which this year is pulling a shorter blade than ever before—a stroke calculated to develop speed rather than endurance. Harvard also has worked on a shorter sweep this year, figuring the four-mile race with Yale a sure thing and consequently centering efforts on the shorter race over which route the Crimson never has scored a victory over Cornell.

'Bring 'em All Along' Says Dusky Fighter

By E. W. SMITH.
CHICAGO, May 22.—"Bring 'em all on, one a week for as long as they last. I'll whip the entire lot, but I must hurry, because I surely will retire at midnight next Labor day."

This was the confident statement made yesterday by Jack Johnson while discussing his plans for the immediate future.

"There are a lot of 'white hopes' around, eh? Well, if they can command any backing in the way of purses, I'll take a shot at all of them—without exception—one week apart for as many weeks as there are fighters or as long as the inducements last," he continued.

"That's how confident I feel that I can clean up the entire lot."

And there isn't a bit of doubt about the real feelings of the big fellow or the confident way of looking at the general situation.

Why am I setting the date of my retirement on Labor day?" he repeated. "Simply because that is a good fighting day all over the country and I shall have my services for that day after I get through with Flynn."

Flynn is a better chance of losing the light sort of a purse on a holiday than on the ordinary day.

By right sort of purse I mean one that is well worth going for. Now, I'm getting $10,000 in Las Vegas for working with Flynn in addition to my training expenses of $1,100. As Flynn looks for the time being to be the very best of the white fighters who aspire to take the title away from me I naturally asked a big price for fighting him.

I know how John L. Sullivan used to grade the prices when he was fighting. He once said $10,000 for white and negroes double price. He did that because he didn't want to battle Peter Jackson for the title because he knew it would be a big price for fighting him.

And if there had been a promoter who would have paid the price at the time, Sullivan wouldn't have made the match anyway. But I'll show a different spirit. I'll start any time I get the price.

"More than this I want to say that I'll be ready for a battle with any of those 'chaps' three weeks from this day."

"There are good reasons for my retirement. One, and the chief one, is that I am going in business at 41 West Forty-first street and will have a fine place there. Yes, I'm getting to the age now when I am sick of the game of training. But mind you I'm not saying that I cannot train. Far from that, because I feel as easy about the work as ever I did."

"As for the money end of the game, I have enough to keep 40 wolves from the door for the remainder of my life. So I don't have to fight. Neither do I have to go into business, but I want to become a respectable citizen and like Chicago better than any place I've ever been in."

"Eighteen years in the 'fight game' that's long enough. Yes, you can bet your life that I'm sincere about this retiring business. No more for John Arthur after next September."

Johnson will reach Las Vegas Sunday and go into training at the Fox-sythe ranch.

CENTENNIAL LOSES TO TERRORS 18-7

By IRVIN BRUCE.
The Terrors romped all over The Centennial team yesterday afternoon on Washburn field, winning by a score of 18 to 7.

The game was one of those old-fashioned slugger matches the Terrors pounded Times all over the field. Fowler was the heavy hitter for the Terrors. Out of five trips to the plate he connected with Thomas' benders for two homers, a double and a single. Tillman ranked next to Fowler in the hitting line, getting three singles out of four chances. Every member of the Terrors team got at least one hit in yesterday's workout.

After two were down in the first, an error combined with a walk and two singles gave the Pueblo team a lead of two runs. Fowler led off for the Terrors and put the first ball pitched for a homer over the center fielder.

The third was where the slaughter really began, the Terrors hitting Thomas at will and scoring seven runs. After the Terrors had secured this lead the final result was never in doubt. In the remaining rounds Coach Stewart's men slugged the ball to all corners of the field.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Centennial 2 0 1 0 2 1 1 0—7 9 8. Terrors 18 7 0 1 3 2—18 15 4. Fowler and Johns, Thomas and Halsey.

It is not known here what city will take the place of Cleveland.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 22.—Activity in the political world, in spite of predictions to the contrary, appears to have ruffled the waters on the stock exchange today and is likely, competent observers believe, to make for caution in the next few days. The market, however, was not so much ruffled as it appeared to be, for with some recovery from the low level, the business was of the usual professional character and failed to make any marked impression.

Conditions in the steel and iron trade show further improvement, according to trade authorities. Many of the larger manufacturers are working at 85 per cent of capacity, and it is regarded as significant that price advances are meeting with less opposition. A rise of $2 per ton in steel tubes was announced. Some of the leading railroads, including the Harriman group, have placed fair orders for rails.

It is likely to resume borrowing money here for its one-year requirements. Money was in reduced demand here because of the prospective foreign demand but time rates were unchanged. June disbursement for interest and dividend payments are calculated at about $85,000,000 compared with $95,000,000 for the corresponding period last year.

The bond market was irregular, with weakness in Rock Island collateral. Total sales, par value, $2,062,000. United States government bonds were unchanged.

Beautiful Hair

at Small Cost

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft, glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and luster if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five years of age, and there is no excuse for anxious, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and dull, smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring back the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair soft, strong and beautiful by using Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a little bottle of Weyl's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement in the appearance of your hair after a few days' treatment. Agents, the Robinson Drug Co.

A DAINTY TOILET ARTICLE

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling, and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouard's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Put up in White and Pink and sent anywhere on receipt of 10 cents in stamp or coin. P. T. Hopkins, 37 Great Jones St., New York.

Old Lady's Sage Advice.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Mrs. Mamie Towe, of 102 W. Main Street, this city, says: "If you had seen me, before I began to take Cardui, you would not think I was the same person. Six doctors failed to do me good, and my friends thought I would die. I could hardly get out of bed or walk a step. At last an old lady advised me to take Cardui, and now I can go most anywhere." All ailing women need Cardui, as a gentle, refreshing tonic, especially adapted to their peculiar ailments. It is a reliable, vegetable remedy, successfully used for over 50 years. You ought to try it.
